Lake Forebay Dredging, Trails and Building Questions & Sunrise (again) Concern Council

by Mary Lou Williamson

Citizens and their concerns occupied much of city council's attention at its May 14 regular meeting.

Sunrise

Council directed the city staff to send a letter to the county executive expressing the city's opinion that the Sunrise footings were placed too late to retain any previous development rights; the city wishes the SMA decision of the County Council to stand, and, thus, all development must now take place within the R-18-C zone (medium density residential condominiums).

Senior Center

Betty Timer, vice chair of the Seniors Advisory Committee, asked for council's help in obtaining the master plan for senior centers which is being developed by the staff of the Prince Georges County Department of Aging. She had been advised that the plan, not yet completed, would be presented to the state before being available to the public. Greenbelt, she was told, is included in a regional district with Beltsville, Vansville and Laurel.

City Manager James K. Giese had met with Sue Ward, head of the Department of Aging, that morning and had received the same information. "We expressed our concern," Giese said. The city's plans for developing Center School as a community center include a senior center. In applying for grants from the State, the city has been told repeatedly to wait until Prince Georges County develops a master plan. Council asked staff to write the county executive requesting information about the process. Greenbelt would like to participate in the planning before decisions are made that could adversely affect Greenbelt.

North End School

Robert Butler asked whether the city could give or sell to Greenbelt Homes a strip of the North End School property it now owns adjacent to the back yards of 11 H-L Laurel Hill. Those residents have discovered that half of their back yards are beyond the property line for the school. In addition, the edge of the school's play area, as originally planned, would come to within 35 feet of the houses in Butler's row. "Not ideal!" he told council. Those fence lines have been in the same place for many, many years added Connie Houchens.

The city is prohibited from selling to any private interests, Giese said. "When we were given that land by Prince Georges County," he explained, "the deed restricted the land to public use." If the city attempted to sell or lease to private interests, the land would automatically revert to the county. Laws that allow taking of land through adverse possession do not apply to public lands, added city solicitor Robert Manzi. It wouldn't matter how long those fences have been on school property or residents have been using those yards.

In a solution offered by the school architect R. C. Garcia, the play area can be pushed back so it will be 75 feet from the row of houses. More trees would be added to the present tree line to provide a better buffer from the noise and activity of the play areas.

Greenbelt Lake

The city has been approved to receive funding through the state to expand and improve the existing forebay at the south end of Greenbelt Lake between the homes on Olive Court and the Charlestowne North apartments. Council has approved the design plan by Dames & Moore for dredging the present forebay, increasing the size, and constructing a gabion weir at the outfall pipe to the lake. The dredged materials will be spread in the area adjacent to the forebay and to the rear of the public works yard. The city's Advisory

Capital Improvements Budget Funds Park, Pool, Possible Storage Shed

by Diane Oberg

The Greenbelt City Council discussed the capital improvements budget at a May 9 worksession. This budget includes expenditures authorized by the 1985 and 1989 bond issues as well as capital projects funded by other city reserves.

The entire $6 million bond authorization approved in the 1985 referendum has been sold. In order to finance the projects, some additional revenues are required. During the current year, the city will receive a Park and Planning grant of $1.25 million, down from the original estimate of $1.4 million. In addition, during 1990/91 the city should receive approximately $400,000 from the sale of land as part of a land swap to help finance the purchase of Parcel 1. City Manager James K. Giese said he was somewhat concerned that the Park and Planning grant was still "caught in the bureaucracy."

The printed budget called for a $1 million ten-year mortgage loan to help finance the purchase of Parcel 1. In a May 9 memorandum to council, Giese presented revised budget figures in which he indicated that this loan should not be required. The city is currently negotiating to purchase this property, located between Ridge Road and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway, between Northway Road extended and Laurel Hill Road.

Police Station and Pool

The police station has been completed at an estimated cost of $2.2 million. Planning and Development Coordinator Celia Wilson said that some minor items still remain incomplete. The contractor will return in October for some corrective work.

One big item is installation of a separate air conditioning system for the computer center because of an underestimate of the amount of cooling required. Giese said that the contractor is disputing whether the engineer was advised of the expected conditions in the room.

The problems with the parking appear to have been resolved, according to Wilson. The lot was recently damaged in a vandalism incident in which a large quantity of gasoline was spilled. Wilson said that the city's insurer has agreed to pay for removal and replacement of the damaged asphalt. Once that is complete, the entire lot will be resurfaced. Although staff would have preferred to observe the lot during the summer heat, to ensure that the lot is stable, it is more efficient to retop the lot as part of the repair project.

The largest project remaining in this account is the construction of the indoor pool. The total cost of this project is now estimated at $3.6 million. Wilson said that the architect is currently establishing the qualifications of prospective bidders, to determine that they are capable of completing the project. Bids for the

by Mary Lou Williamson

Members of Greenbelt Homes reelected incumbents and adopted a restated Charter for the corporation at the annual meeting May 17.

Election

Members returned to the practice this year of allowing voting for officers following the evening meeting. Of the 98 votes cast this year, 80 were cast Wednesday evening and 18 the following day. There were no losers in the election. Five members ran for five slots on the Board of Directors and three for the Audit Committee. The Nominations and Elections Committee was elected by unanimous ballot.

The only business on the agenda was a relatively uncontroversial restatement of the charter. Several amendments were offered. Ben Rosenzweig found the section adopted last year covering indemnification of directors or officers to be vague and inadequate. He moved inclusion of requirements that directors or officers had "acted in good faith," had no "conflict of interest," "have not committeed a malfeasance" nor been "derelict in their duties." William Edwards, a Greenbelt attorney familiar with Maryland laws, explained the need to have the language in the charter follow the language in the law sufficiently so as not to create problems. The motion failed 42 to 32.

Bob Rashkin wanted the charter to reflect the heritage of Greenbelt as a planned community. He moved to include among the goals "to pursue and adhere to the original plan of Tugwell and Roosevelt." While other members were interested in the concept, such language could prove to be awkward. Not everything in the original plans would be acceptable today. Members however, agreed with Rosenzweig who noticed the word "cooperative" was missing and asked that it be included.

Awards

This year's outstanding employee award went to Ellen Folkee, the maintenance receptionist. Folkee was hired in 1978 as a cashier. She has made suggestions that have saved the corporation money and earned merit awards. She interacts with more GHI members than any other employee. "I try to help them any way I can," said Folkee in thanking the selection committee and members for the recognition.

John Lewis was selected earlier this year as the volunteer of the year. Lewis, who served previously on the board, has been active on the Architecture and Environment Committee. In a special award this year, Ted Sacra and Tim Grady were recognized for preventing a major disaster for GHI when they rushed to put out a fire in a home on Laurel Hill Road. "We thank you for the recognition and the fire department for its help to the community and for encouraging us," said Tim Grady. The boys are junior firemen, learning the responsibilities of being firefighters.

Diane Liebscher and Mac Wirick were honored for their years of service on the board. Neither ran for re-election this year.

Door prizes went to Mac Wirick, Elaine Bobbitt and Barbara Gremore.

Swim Team News

by Gail Drake

Summer may be coming but don't use that as an excuse to hide your alarm clocks. You might miss out on all of the fun of being a part of the Greenbelt Swim Team — a close-knit but friendly group of young athletes who are always happy to share their fun with new friends. Last season's efforts were rewarded with a division championship which catapulted the team into the "B" Division of Prince Mont Swim League. The exciting challenge of swimming in such a competitive division makes the team especially greedy for new swimmers this summer. Because we had such a large group of graduating senior swimmers last year, we have many eager helpers ready to encourage newcomers to take their places. There will never be a better time to begin swimming for the Greenbelt Swim Team! Everyone is needed!

Practices begin for twelve to eighteen year olds on Tuesday, May 29 at 8 p.m. Ten year old veteran swimmers will begin the following week as the weather warms(?). Younger swimmers and newcomers should wait until morning practices begin on Monday, June 18, at 8 a.m. Please call the coach, Gail Drake, at 345-2522, between 5 and 7 p.m., if you have any questions about when you should start practice.

Don't let this summer turn into a long quest for air conditioned hideouts just to watch old summer reruns on TV. Keep cool with the Greenbelt Swim Team! Make new friends, find new challenges, learn new skills, build a new body. Have a great summer! Just remember the swim team's secret — the earlier you get up in the morning, the longer and better your summer vacation will be!

Capital Improvements Program, FY 1991-1994

Construction of Storage Building and Storage Yard

The City Council has scheduled a public hearing for the purpose of hearing citizen comments concerning the following matters:

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS PROGRAM - Expenditures for capital projects are accounted for in five separate funds of the city. The Capital Improvements Fund II accounts for the expenditure of the $6,000,000 bond issue and other funds authorized to construct buildings, construct swimming pool facilities, and undertake parks acquisition and development. The Capital Improvements Fund III accounts for the $1,000,000 bond issue and other funds authorized for the development of Schrom Hills Park. The Capital Improvements Fund IV accounts for the $3,000,000 bond issue and other funds authorized for the rehabilitation of Greenbelt Center School as a community center. The Capital Projects Fund accounts for funds appropriated in the General Fund for transfer to this fund and other funds for the undertaking of such capital projects as may be authorized by the Council. The Community Development Block Grant Fund accounts for Federal Community Development Block Grant Funds allocated to the city by Prince George's County for the undertaking of various capital projects.

CONSTRUCTION OF STORAGE BUILDING AND STORAGE YARD - As an expenditure of the Capital Projects Fund for fiscal year 1991, city staff has proposed the construction of a 60'x80" premanufactured building to store items now stored at North End School. The building can be constructed in the vicinity of existing Public Works facility at Attick Park or upon city property at the end of Hamilton Place adjacent to the GHI boat and trailer storage yard. If located at Hamilton Place, it is proposed to also store outdoor construction materials, such as gravel, asphalt, etc. presently stored at Attick Park.

The proposed capital improvements budgets and information on the proposal for a storage building may be obtained at the City Offices, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The hearing will be held in the City Council Room, Municipal Building, 25 Crescent Road. Following the public hearing, Council will adopt the capital improvements budgets in a Special Meeting on Thursday, June 28, 1990.

Letters to the Editor

Not at this Address

To the Editor:

In your last issue, you incorrectly listed my address as the home of Howard Lee Comis, arrested for robberies in Beltsville and College Park.

Howard Comis is my 38-year-old half-brother and his last known address was 6115 43rd Avenue in Hyattsville. He was arrested in College Park right after moving out of the room he rented in a Hyattsville house. Where he was going from there I don't know, except that it was not to my home in Greenbelt.

He falsely gave police my address as his permanent home. The Prince Georges Journal printed the following correction on Monday, May 7, 1990 (Page A-3), after making the same mistake:

"Howard Lee Comis, charged last week with three counts of robbery with a deadly weapon, has no fixed address. A Greenbelt address Comis provided police when arrested is incorrect, police said. An article April 30 contained the erroneous address."

Howard did live at my Greenbelt home for a few months in the summer of 1988, after arriving at my doorstep from the Dominican Republic. My wife and I wanted to give him a start as a productive citizen.

We later threw him out when it was time for him to make it on his own. We resolved that he would never live with us again and he hasn't and he won't.

It's important for me to clear this matter up, particularly since I have been elected to a position of trust on the GHI Board of Directors. To those who voted for me, I'm sorry for this mutual embarrassment. Thank you for your votes. I assure you I'll live up to the high standards you have a right to expect.

It's particularly embarrassing to me because I've worked so many years with so many police departments to create neighborhood and office crime watch groups. I'm deeply committed to the goal of a crime-free Greenbelt.

If you have any questions about this or any other matter, please feel free to call me at 345-5408.

Don Comis

Hands Off

To the Editor:

There is absolutely no need for a bulldozed perimeter trail. The existing trail system in those woods serves a purpose possible nowhere else in the city: peace and solitude in relatively undisturbed forest land. We have a wide popular trail around the lake. Do we want to duplicate that trail's conditions in our last fragment of natural forest?

There are animals in the perimeter woods, adjoining the Ag Center woods, that cannot live anywhere else in the city, because they require large tracts of unpeopled forest land. Shall we drive away the deer to make a 12-foot-wide path for joggers and boomboxes? I have nothing against the lake trail; I often walk it myself—but why duplicate it? Shall we also tear down the Kennedy Center to replace it with a Chuck E. Cheese?

How much would this desecration cost? The money would be better spent in acquiring Parcel One, which is not yet secure, or in paying for the new police station and indoor swimming pool. Let's not waste our time thinking up new ways to use money—and to destroy the natural environment as well.

Every time I drive along Greenbelt Road, another patch of forest has been lost to the bulldozers. For God's sake, let's keep our hands off for once!

THANKS

The management at the Co-op deserves special thanks for making available string bags at cost. These 100% cotton bags fold up to fit into your pocket or purse, yet expand to carry about as much as a regular grocery bag. They are recommended by the EPA along with many environmental groups. Thanks to the Co-op for showing concern for the Earth.

"Just Write No"

To the Editor:

A petition is coming to your home in opposition to the new school. So "Just Write No!" to stop the deforestation and destruction of Greenbelt. The Greenbelt city council is in the process of turning over North End to the P.G. School Board for the construction of a new school.

However, only recently has the impact of the new school been determined. Approximately 3.2 acres will be lost for said school (1 acre) and stormwater pond (2.2 acres). Upon my investigation the following problems have been identified:

1. The loss of trees (3.2 acres).
2. The danger of having a stormwater pond.
3. The size of the school is not compatible with school site.
4. The potential for cost overrun at the school.
5. The loss of play area (sliding hill and baseball field) for children living in the immediate area.
6. A new building will have to be constructed to store items already stored at North End at a cost of $50,000.
7. The increased traffic to and from the new school.
8. Center School will be converted to a community center, which has several inherent problems:

A. The city will be financially responsible for the cost of renovations.

B. The Center School is too large to become a community center. Therefore will have to be in constant use to justify the cost of renovations and maintenance.

C. A "major" increase in traffic in the area.

9. The richness of Center School will be lost as a center for education.

THANKS

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Greenbelt Center School PTA, we want to express our gratitude to all who contributed time, effort and/or resources to the 1990 Greenbelt Center School Spring Fair. The success of this year's fair, surpassing our expectations was due mainly to the dedicated efforts of the school administration, faculty, staff, parents, students, and all members of the Greenbelt community who supported this activity with their time, resources, and patronage

We are grateful, also, to the merchants, professional associations and other organizations throughout the Greenbelt area who contributed prizes and refreshments for everyone's enjoyment. The 1990 Spring Fair, like its predecessors, was truly a cooperative project, in the tradition so characteristic of the Greenbelt community.

The participants were Dr. John Van Schoonhoven, principal; Richard Castaldi, Greenbelt representative to the County Council; and James Beale, Director of Budget, Prince Georges County School System. Bob Zugby, PTA president, was the moderator.

A concern about funding, or lack thereof, prompted the meeting. At the outset, Van Schoonhoven described how the numbers of pupils in the school directly affect the number of staff. He related the types of monies that are available to the schooi for purchases during the school year; $1,458 is provided for an administrative fund for office supplies. Other monies must be specifically requested from the school system.

Of special interest was whether Center School is being shortchanged by the monies spent on magnet schools and other special schools. Beale indicated that the proposed school budget allowed $481 additional per pupil for magnet schools and $713 for Millikin 2 schools (those schools in areas that cannot be desegregated). However, some of these funds are state and federal funds, not county funds.

One parent questioned whether Center School was penalized for having an experienced teaching staff - one that has higher salaries. The answer is no, salaries are averaged for all schools. Another parent who also is a county teacher complained of the tremendous discrepancy in science classes between Magnet and comprehensive schools such as Greenbelt. Beale indicated that there was a large infusion of money at the start of the Magnet program that set up labs, equipment, etc. The school budget is requesting $400,000 to expand science labs at the elementary level.

Parents wanted to know what they could do to improve their school now. Castaldi suggested an adopt-a-school program where parents and businesses provide funds and volunteers to make things happen in Center School. He also suggested lobbying and networking to make the parents' concerns heard at the County level. A final suggestion was to make concerns known to the school board representative Suzanne Plogman.

Van Schoonhoven suggested that parents develop a wish list of what could be done if money and volunteers were available. Goals could then be set and discussed with school staff. In a general vein, TRIM was discussed and how it affects the school budget. As an alternative it was stated that if each county resident were taxed $250, the monies raised would pay for all the basic and enhanced projects proposed by the school system.

A second meeting has been scheduled by the PTA for May 30 with Plogman to discuss the quality of education at Center School.

Buck Hill & Co. Headline Greenbelt Day Celebration

It will be "Jazz Under the Stars" when the well-known Jazz saxophonist Buck Hill and his Buck Hill Quartet appear on Sat., June 2, in honor of Greenbelt Day. Hill was recently described by the Washington Post as "one of the world's great tenor saxophonists." The free concert will be held outdoors at the Municipal Pool, starting at 8 p.m. The concert is sponsored by the Greenbelt Arts Center, in co-operation with the City of Greenbelt Recreation Department. This is the fifth and final event in the Arts Center's 1989-90 Music Series.

The Recreation Department will keep the pool open until just before the concert. Those attending are encouraged to bring chairs or blankets. The Arts Center will have a concession stand before the event and during intermission.

Buck Hill has been widely known in D.C. area jazz circles for many years. The Buck Hill Quartet (tenor sax, piano, bass, and drums) has appeared frequently at the One Step Down near Georgetown, at jazz festivals in Europe, and at the Montpelier Jazz Festival in Laurel.

At the most recent Montpelier festival, the quartet was featured along with jazz legends like Charlie Byrd, Covington and Ethel Ennis. Hill has also made occasional recordings, including a new album scheduled for release in June.

Hill was featured in a Washington Post story in 1989 which called him "one of the giants of jazz." The story also noted that Hill and his wife Helen live in Greenbelt, at Greenbiar. That startling revelation caused the Arts Center to contact Hill about apppearing on its Music Series.

Theodore Byerly

Theodore C. Byerly, 88, of 6 Court Ridge Road, died Thursday, May 17, at home. A poultry scientist with the Department of Agriculture for almost 40 years, Dr. Byerly came to Greenbelt in 1967 when he married Imogene McCarthy.

Dr. Byerly was born and raised in Melbourne, Iowa, a farming community. He received his BA, MA, and PhD from the University of Iowa, completing his studies in zoology in 1926.

He and his wife, Helen, came to this area several years later from New York State, where he had taught at Hunter College. The family lived in various communities around Greenbelt and in Washington, D.C. Except for the years when he taught at the University of Maryland, 1937-41, he was employed by USDA. At the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center he specialized in poultry science. Later, he became an administrator in Washington. His wife died in 1966.

After moving to Greenbelt in 1967, Dr. Byerly became active, though unofficially, in the affairs of Greenbelt. He was elected to the Board of Directors of Greenbelt Homes in 1973 and served two years.

Dr. Byerly was a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the American Academy of Science. He is to be elected to the Animal Research Service Hall of Fame in June. Dr. Byerly received the Borden Award for Outstanding Poultry Science during World War II and numerous service awards from USDA including a special award in 1972. He was a member of the Cosmos Club and was in Who's Who in America.

His survivors include his wife, Imogene of the home; three children of his first marriage, Carroll B. Holcomb, David S. Byerly and Nora B. Bolita; two step children, Dr. John P. McCarthy and F. Anthony McCarthy of Greenbelt; a niece; a brother, 18 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Plogman Will Run For School Board

Suzanne Plogman, the incumbent Prince Georges County District 2 school board member from Greenbelt, filed with the elections board to run for a second four-year term on the nine-member board.

"The improvement in student achievement, the increases in teachers' pay, and the progress in making our schools safe and exciting places to learn must continue," she said in announcing her reasons for running.

During her first term she introduced the resolution that created drug free zones around the county's schools. She also authored the resolution that made health education, including classes on AIDS and drug and alcohol abuse, a graduation requirement, beginning with 1992 graduating classes. Another resolution she introduced mandates immediate expulsion for students involved in group or gang fights. The employee child care center opened in August, 1989, also as a result of a resolution Progman introduced.

The second school board district includes all of Greenbelt, Riverdale, Berwyn Heights, and Hyattsville, as well as portions of College Park, Seabrook-Lanham and College Heights Estates. Plogman was appointed in 1986 by County Executive Glendening to complete the term of resigning member Leslie Kramer

She then went on to win the 1986 election for the seat, by a margin only exceeded in the county by Governor Schaefer's landslide over his opponent

Plogman, 36, has a Master's degree in education from the University of Arizona and a B.A. from Hood College in Frederick. She taught special education in the county at Northwestern High School and Rollingcrest Junior High for seven years before being elected to the Board of Education. She is a former vice president of the Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt Democratic Club, past chair of the Prince Georges County Commission for Women, a former Lion's Club member and former board member of the Family Crisis Center and the Greenbelt Advisory Planning Board. She lives in Greenbelt with her husband and two young sons.

CAPITAL BUDGET

pool will be opened on June 28. Work is scheduled to begin when the outdoor pool closes in September. The pool should open in September of 1991. Wilson expected that this schedule could be met. She said that it permits a year for completion of work estimated to require nine months.

Schrom Hills Park

Last year, voters approved a $1 million bond issue for the development of Schrom Hills Park. While Wilson says that the city will be unable to meet its goal to complete the park during 1990, she said that it should be complete by the spring of 1991. However, Giese noted that the city does not yet own the Steiner property, which it is seeking to obtain by condemnation. Delays in obtaining this property could delay completion of the park.

In addition to the bond revenues obtained during the current fiscal year, the city will receive a state Open Space grant during the 1991 fiscal year, and will transfer $129,400 from the Reserve for Capital Improvements.

The tota lcost of the park, including monies already spent, is now estimated at $1.3 million.

Streets

A number of street construction projects are budgeted during the next two fiscal years in the Capital Projects Fund. These include the reconstruction of Centerway, estimated at $575,000; forebay improvements at Greenbelt Lake, $106,000; and reconstruction of the Braden Field tennis courts, $65,000. In addition, $25,000 is budgeted for renovating the municipal building and $45,000 for resurfacing the roof of the Public Works building.

Public Works Storage

One potentially controversial project is the proposed construction of a public works storage shed on city property behind the GHI vehicle storage lot on Hamilton Place. Giese said that the shed is needed to hold essential items currently stored in the North End School. The city is negotiating with the county to swap this property for Center School so that a new elementary school can be built on the site.

For the present, the public works department is proposing construction of a short access road and a 60 foot by 80 foot shed on a concrete pad. Giese has allowed $75,000 in his budget for construction of the shed and road and installation of a fence. The city manager noted that the shed could be located in the current public works compound near Buddy Attick Park, but that council had indicated a desire to relocate the Public Works Compound.

Giese distributed possible site plans showing the location of the shed, both singly and as part of a complete Public Works compound. He suggested that if council approved the shed, the entire area needed for the compound be fenced. The area he proposes, most of which would be located on an open field, would require clearing a strip of what Giese referred to as scrub woods. However, he noted that the city would not have the money to construct such a compound for several years.

In addition to the shed, Giese suggested that the area be used for a materials storage yard, where the Public Works Department could store salt, sand, gravel and other loose materials. Director of Public Works George Smith said that if the salt is moved it would be placed in a salt dome with a concrete floor. Giese expressed concern that in the future the current loose storage of salt may not meet environmental standards.

Fencing a Concern

While none of the council members had any objections to the storage shed, the idea of fencing such a large area did concern them. Mayor pro tem Thomas X. White suggested that a "decision trail" be established for the shed location. He also worried that citizen reaction to the compound proposal might threaten approval of the shed.

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld said that fencing such a large area would imply approval of the proposed compound, long before council considers the issue. He said he was inclined to support fencing only that area needed now. Giese noted that council could also be charged with not being straightforward with the citizens if it fences a small area now, then goes back for more. Bram asked for a reduction in the amount of land fenced, to avoid clearing any woodlands.

Smith asked council to avoid reducing the fenced area to a size too small to be useful. He and Giese agreed that it would be no problem to avoid the wooded area.

Council member Joseph Isaacs asked staff to rework the proposal to reduce the amount of open space taken.

Weidenfeld suggested that staff prepare a proposal for the storage shed and the possible creation of a materials storage yard. Once council receives community comment it can decide to either approve tne project or leave the materials where they are. Giese said that staff will prepare a proposal for comment.

FY92 Projects

The proposed budget also proposes several projects in the Reserve for Capital Improvements for fiscal year 1992. These include the resurfacing of Hedgewood Drive, Research Road, Ridge Road between Laurel Hill and Plateau Place and between Research Road and Lastner Lane, and Hanover Parkway between Greenbelt Road and Ora Glen Drive. During that year, the budget also calls for restoring the Mother and Child statue and improvements to the Northway fields.

Police Department Receives Recognition

The Greenbelt Police Department has been selected as a recipient of the 1990 Prince Georges County Public Schools Outstanding Public Service Award. The Board of Education honored the department for its initiative and leadership in making Project DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) a success in Prince Georges County. Project DARE which was first implemented in 1988 in four elementary schools by the Greenbelt Police Department, will reach every elementary school in Prince Georges County in the fall of 1990.

Police Chief James R. Craze accepted the award on behalf of the department. Pfc. David A. Buerger received an individual Certificate of Recognition from the school board for his contribution to the success of the DARE program.

The Greenbelt Police Department entered two K-9 teams in the United States Police Canine Association Region III K-9 trials in Fairfax on May 4-6. The trials included 53 officers and their dogs from Maryland, Virginia and the District. The competition, which was scored by a field of five judges, included obedience, agility, article searches, simulated building searches and apprehensions.

Representing the Greenbelt Police Department's K-9 Unit were Sgt. Danny Love and his canine "Sonny,' and the newest addition to the unit, Pfc. Robert Musterman and his canine "Natan.' During the final day of the trials, Pfc. Musterman and Natan were awarded a second place trophy in the area of agility. As a result of this performance, the team is now certified by the United States Police Canine Association.

Public Safety Honorees Receive Legion Awards

by Julie Andrews

The Greenbelt Post of the American Legion honored outstanding contributors to public safety on April 20 at its 1990 Policeman and Fireman Awards Banquet.

The Greenbelt Police Department chose Marie Croissette as Police Officer of the Year, and the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad selected Tim Grady and Ted Sacra as Firemen of the year.

Croissette saved a life in February, 1989, when she responded to an emergency call about a man who was attempting to hang himself from a tree. Within one minute she reached the scene in her cruiser. Croissette climbed the tree, and while upside down, lifted the man to safety, police said.

Grady and Sacra, students at Eleanor Roosevelt High School, saved a row of GHI homes from destruction by fire on February 1 of this year. The two young men used a couple of fire extinguishers and a garden hose to fight the blaze until the first fire fighting equipment could reach the scene. Mayor Gil Weidenfeld honored them in March with a city proclamation.

Greenbelt Post 136 held the awards ceremony as part of an American Legion tradition of supporting and recognizing police and fire departments' contributions to their communities, according to Richard Santos, member of Post 136 and chairman of the Police and Fireman Awards Committee.

Among the more than 180 in attendance at the banquet were American Legion officers and government officials from the local, county and state levels who presented proclamations. Maryland Delegate Joan Pitkin, County Councilman Richard Castaldi and Mayor Gil Weidenfeld recognized the honorees. City Councilman Thomas X. White represented State Senator Leo Green in presenting the Senate's proclamation. Post 136 also presented certificates.

Commander Noel Tucker of Greenbelt Post 136 and Post 136 members would like to thank Greenbelt Police Department Chief James Craze and Chief Michael Dutton of the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad and their departments for their assistance.

COUNCIL MEETING

Planning Board (APB) recommended that the plans be approved. Staff agreed, but suggested the adjacent area remain an open play space after the material dries.

Roger Copp, of Dames & Moore, explained to council that the increased surface area of the forebay would trap more phosphorus and suspended solids and thus they would not flow into the lake from upstream. The drainage area of 200 acres includes developed areas, and Belle Point, which is now under construction. Copp expects that the permit from the Corps of Engineers is imminent. Only 0.02 acre of wetlands will be disturbed.

Kenneth Brisco, Olivewood Court, asked for trees to be planted on the west side to screen the apartments and that no ugly fence be put up around the forebay. Copp explained that no fence will be needed since the slope will not be steep. Trees might be in the way of future dredging operations, Giese added. When Willard Larkin, president of the Lakeside Citizens Association, cautioned against trucking the dredged materials through the park, Copp told him there was no plan to do that. Werner Neupert, Lakeside Drive, commented favorably on the care with which the contractor had moved large equipment around small trees when doing similar work at the east end of the lake. He hoped for similar treatment on this project. Copp said the same contractor has been notified of this project and may be interested.

The state will contribute 75 percent of the cost of the project. The city's 25 percent will consist of paying the engineering fees and staff time.

Planning Projects

Three planning projects will be forwarded to the Planning Assistance to Municipalities Program of the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission (M-MCPPC):

1. Design of a city sign/unifying visual element.
2. If the design of the pond in Schrom Hills Park is to be significantly changed, as is expected, its relationship to the park and adjacent homes needs to be restudied and perhaps redesigned.
3. Designation of the "green belt." Recommendations are needed for suitable uses within the green belt and the means to designate it in official planning documents to protect it.

Trails Study

Last year's list of projects for planning assistance by M-NCPPC included developing a city trails plan. Kim Finch, who has been assigned to the project, is ready to begin. A joint subcommittee of APB and the city's Parks and Recreation Advisory Board (PRAB) have also recommended that the city hire a trails coordinator to undertake a comprehensive study of trails throughout the city to see what should be improved and where new trails should be developed to tie all areas of the city together. The city staff recommended that Finch proceed on these recommendations.

Rodney Roberts addressed council: "It bothers me that we have had 1,200 citizens ask council to leave alone" Parcels 1 and 2 and the 72 acres of surplus land. "This is the last piece of woods that doesn't have pavement and signs and things made by man."

Council member Antoinette Bram expressed her desire that the study not include new trails through woodlands. Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and council members Ed Putens and Joseph Isaacs prevailed in supporting staff's recommendation to complete the study as provided. There will be opportunities for the public to express its needs and concerns, they said. Davis, chair of the subcommittee, asked council not to stop in the middle of the public discussion.

"A paved trail," wide enough for maintenance vehicles, "is not ecologically sound," Bram insisted.

"We are not talking about paved trails," responded Giese, who suggested she look at the trails the city has developed in Greenbriar Park. Sheldon Goldberg suggested that three-foot wide trails could be maintained without damage to surrounding areas by using scooter-type vehicles such as those used on ball fields. Trails currently average four feet in width.

Storage Building

The city must find a new place for the variety of items now stored in the North End School. Giese proposed putting up a 60 ft. x 80 ft. prefabricated, unheated building on city property at the end of Hamilton Place beyond the GHI trailer compound. The land is a portion of the 72 acres acquired by the city in 1989. In addition, unsightly construction material now stored in open view at the public works compound could be moved to this site. Giese proposes to fence in an area 200 yards x 300 yards.

"The fenced compound is located on top of spot A for ball fields," said Doug Love. This plan for Northway ball fields was proposed last year by M-NCPPC's Planning Assistance to Municipalities Program. Love objected to locating the storage facility on what are some of the better garden plots and where the Hamilton family cemetery might be.

"The Hamilton cemetery is not there," Giese responded. "It was destroyed by a gardener."

"We're looking for a location with the least impact on the park," said Weidenfeld.

The proposed shed will be discussed at a meeting on June 4 in the city council chambers.
